Instructional Coaching Series

Melbourne

For both practising and aspiring instructional coaches

Improve the effectiveness of your impact as an instructional coach

2 spaced workshop days

Coaching theory & demonstrations

Video analysis of classroom practice

Opportunities for rehearsal & feedback

Our Instructional Coaching Series supports teachers and school leaders with a coaching role or responsibilities to strengthen their practice. Using the Teach Well Coaching Model as a guide, educators will transform their coaching practice and ultimately, drive improvements in teaching and student outcomes.

The Experience

Instructional Coaching Series participants will:

- » Develop practical coaching skills through structured practice and feedback;
- » Engage with research-informed coaching models, including the Teach Well Coaching Cycle;
- » Analyse classroom practice through video to strengthen feedback and decision-making;
- » Build capacity to support high-impact instruction aligned with the Victorian Teaching and Learning Model;
- » Access high-quality resources, including a complimentary copy of Teach Well's Instruction and Coaching Companion;

The Series includes access to Teach Well's Learning Management System, including a comprehensive video library, extensive resources and curriculum materials.

Testimonials

From the Teach Well Instructional Coaching Workshop

"The 'whys' have been answered, the ways to implement have been explained and the possibilities have been made achievable."

"I have a lot more clarity around what Instructional Coaching is and why it is important. I like that we have more knowledge of the process before beginning and know the roles of everyone involved."

"It's really great to have the principles of coaching clearly explained and to understand the 'why' element. Also to appreciate how important the reflective process is and the impact this has on my teaching. It was a safe space to process and reflect on my own practice and set achievable goals."
