Online Modules

Intellectual Preparation for Teachers: Mathematics

Learn to use and adapt pre-prepared materials in your classroom.

Align Ochre materials with school documents

Flexibly use curriculum materials for the needs of your cohort

This program will help small teams of teachers understand how to align Ochre materials with their school documents. Teams will look at how to plan for their class or grade using prepared materials, including how to integrate these materials with existing school materials.

Teachers will consider how to preview and adapt the materials so they are suitable for their school scope and sequence and the needs of their cohorts.

Intellectual Preparation for Teachers: Mathematics

Who is it for?

This program is designed for teachers who are keen to develop their understanding of how to review and adapt Ochre materials to suit the needs of their class. Participants can be drawn from across states and territories and all sectors. This course will draw on Ochre resources to demonstrate key concepts.

How is it structured?

There are two 3-hour virtual workshops (via Zoom) (scheduled during early afternoons east coast time / AWST), in which teams will learn about how to preview and adapt Ochre materials to best suit their class.

Alongside the virtual workshops, schools have an opportunity to consult with curriculum experts for feedback and next-step problem-solving, conducted as a 30-minute online group coaching session assigned per school.

When does the program run?

Cohort 1 will kick-off in Term 1 2026 to support planning for the 2026 school year.
